All set up!

Bonnie, your letters...
Thanks Tortis.

Before we begin...

...let us have a moment of silence.

What's your inspiration? You couldn't possibly have lived through that much. I mean, we all can only live one life, right? (reference to previous episode)

No, it's impossible that I lived through that much.
That would be a very exciting and tragic life...

I'm adopted and
I have 2 lost siblings!

I have 12 children!

I have been homeless!

Some episodes were inspired by my own experience, but I get most inspiration from other people's lives.

thanks!

The most useless answer when you ask a person's source of inspiration...
...is EVERYWHERE!
It's true, just pay more attention to the things happening around you.
You can find inspiration even in a pretty boring life....like mine.

Oh, my blood type is A.
Good sign for better grades!

I think there is a theory about blood type personality and it seems to be very popular in Japan.

O
I do find similarities with blood type A personality.
The personality stuff is interesting but don't take it too serious.
Go read more about it if you like.

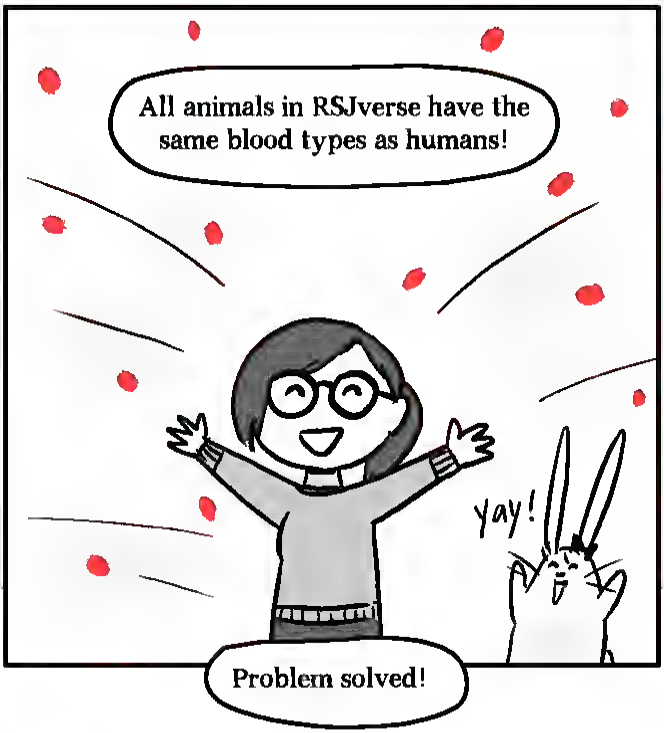
Oh no, then I can't donate blood to other animal species!
And to Tortis!
How can I save you if you were badly injured?
Um...

Well then...



I will talk about RSJ blood types in another episode.

when can u recieve fan mail?

My workplace is my home, but I can't use my home address because of privacy.
And my mailbox is tiny.
Maybe I should rent a mailbox.

I love animal farm! it's a really good book and I recommend it to yall. Also those mini love scenes between Leo and Cheetah-B remind me of so many k dramas lol. Bonnie my question is: Milk, White, or Dark chocolate? you can only eat one for the rest of your life.

MALNOURISHED

Although I know dark chocolate is the most healthy...

I love milk chocolate!
72%

To me, chocolate must go with milk, they are like a couple!

Your hot chocolate milk, Bonnie.
Ahaha thanks Angora! I forgot Foxy isn't here.

That's all for this episode, thank you for the questions!

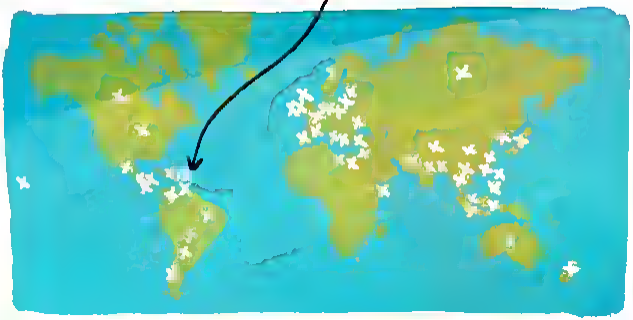
Hi! I really love your comic. I am from Dominican Republic and our national animal is the palmchat, cigua palmera in spanish. It just can be found here.

Readers from Dominican Republic!



The Palmchat is a singing bird that lives in large groups. They are small but build large nests on top of royal palm trees. The nest has many compartments and internal passages. The Palmchat is a noisy bird!
